RE: Area 2: Proposed Revisions (revised)

This document is a revision of the proposals from the Consistency Task Force dealing with Area 2, Edition. It has been revised in the light of tentative decisions made by the Joint Steering Committee in September 2003. The document consists of three parts:

- A. Summary of Decisions and Issues for Discussion. The summary of decisions lists the major decisions made by JSC and include reference to the JSC minutes [4JSC/M/573.3]. The issues for discussion highlight some of the issues still outstanding, which CC:DA might wish to discuss. The section also includes an outline of the rules in the area and a list of issues that have been deferred for future discussion or referred to some other group for resolution.
- B. The revisions proper. The proposed revisions are marked up in the usual way. Only rules to be revised are included, except that we have generally included all of the Chapter 1 rules so that the meaning of the reference back to those rules in the other chapters can be assessed. The examples for each rule are included. Prior to each section is a listing of the changes proposed. The rationale for the change is given where it goes beyond consistency. In the revision proposals, the unique rules in Chapters 2–12 are highlighted in yellow.
- C. A clean copy. The clean copy includes all the chapters in Part I (except Chapter 13). Examples that are to be excluded from the Prototype of Part 1 [a separate document, CC:DA/TF/Consistency/Prototype/2003 December] are struck through and highlighted in green.

A. Summary of Decisions and Issues for Discussion

Outline of Area 2 rules: With some exceptions, each chapter in Part 1 contains the following rules in the Edition Area (either explicitly or by reference back to the rules in Chapter 1):

X.2. EDITION AREA

X.2A. Preliminary rule

X.2A1. Scope or other preliminary rules

X.2A2. Punctuation

X.2B. Edition statement

X.2B1-2. [basic rules for explicit edition statements]

X.2B3. [“in case of doubt” rule]

X.2B4. [optional addition for supplied edition statements]

X.2B5. [parallel edition statements]

X.2B6. [edition statements in collections lacking a collective title]

X.2B7. [resources consisting of multiple physical pieces; currently only in 9.2B]

X.2C. Statements of responsibility relating to the edition

X.2C1-5. [general rule; references back to chapter 1]

X.2D. Statement relating to a named revision of an edition

X.2D1-3. [general rule; references back to chapter 1]

X.2E. Statements of responsibility relating to a named revision of an edition

X.2E1-3. [general rule; references back to chapter 1]

X.2F. Changes in edition information [only in Chapter 12]

Summary of decisions: The following actions were taken as a result of tentative decisions made by the Joint Steering Committee in September 2003 (or earlier):

- ✓ JSC asked that a Prototype of the revised Part 1 be created. In particular, they asked that the examples in chapter 1 be kept to a number that might reasonable appear in the revised text. The prototype will be presented as a separate proposal. In this proposal, the examples that will not be included in the prototype have been marked in the clean copy (part C of this document). The selection of examples was somewhat arbitrary and should therefore not be taken as a definite recommendation.
- ✓ The FRBR terminology has been updated according to 4JSC/M/573.
- ✓ The rules in chapters 2–12 have been further collapsed according to proposals made by CCC [4JSC/M/573.3.1]
- ✓ Mnemonic rule numbering (i.e., consistent numbering of rules across chapters) has been retained in the prototype for comment; no final decision has been made [4JSC/M/573.3.2]. The rules in chapter 1 have been numbered consecutively, with no gaps.
- ✓ The punctuation rules appear in chapter 1 only, and no reference back has been included in chapters 2–12 [4JSC/M/573.3.3].
- ✓ The practice of references forward from chapter 1 to special rules in chapters 2–12 has been included in the prototype [4JSC/M/573.3.4].
- ✓ Redundant examples have been provisionally eliminated in the prototype to give a more accurate sense of what the final version would look like [4JSC/M/573.3.6]. The examples to be excluded from the prototype are marked in the clean copy.
- ✓ The use of bold italics to indicate the scope of special rules has been applied more carefully. In particular, the word “and” connecting two separate categories (e.g., “serials and integrating resources”) should not receive bold italics [4JSC/M/573.3.7].

- ✓ The special rules for rare books have been retained, but not revised, pending consultation with the rare book community [4JSC/M/573.3.13 and .23]. The proposed generalization of 2.15B as rule 1.2B3 has been removed, and the remaining 1.2B rules renumbered.
- ✓ Chapter 4 has been made consistent with other chapters [4JSC/M/573.3.8].
- ✓ The area tables of contents have been removed from chapters 2–12 in the prototype.

Specific changes are described at the beginning of each of the sections below.

Issues for discussion: The following issues may merit particular attention (the numbers refer to revised rule numbering):

- ✓ In 4JSC/ALA/49/Rev the term “edition information” was used in references from chapters 2–12 to the area 2 rules in chapter 1. JSC preferred to use the term “edition statement” [4JSC/M/573.3.11] The problem with this is that “edition statement” is only the first element in the edition area, and it seems confusing to use “edition statement” to refer to the entire area as well as to a single element. Would it be clear that one should transcribe statements of responsibility relating to the edition, etc., following the edition statement? On the other hand, the edition statement (narrowly defined) is the mandatory element in this area; there is no edition area without an edition statement. Do you find this confusing? Should ALA make the argument again? [Note: Rule 12.2F consciously used the term “edition information” in order to make it explicit that changes in any of the elements of the edition area were covered by the rule. Should we reverse that?]
- ✓ CCC objected to rules in chapter 1 that consisted solely of references to rules in later chapters. JSC agreed [4JSC/M/573.3.17, etc.]. This is appropriate when the references are added to a rule that has some relation to the rule referred to. However, this is not always the case. In the case of Area 2, the sole example is the reference to the rules for changes in edition information in Chapter 12. CCC suggests adding the reference to 1.2B7, a rule dealing with edition statements applying to different parts of a resource in more than one physical part. There seem to be several objections to this: (a) As noted above the rule in Chapter 12 applies to changes throughout the edition area, not just to the edition statement narrowly defined, whereas 1.2B7 applies specifically to the edition statement. (b) The reference at this time is only to Chapter 12, but there are not yet rules dealing with changes for multipart; it seems a good idea to keep this a separate rule in Chapter 1 until we know how multipart will be handled. (c) The Prototype should include the complete logical structure of the rules in Chapter 1, including reference to rules that appear only in later chapters. In order to meet the CCC objection (at least technically) the wording suggested is a rule to apply 12.2F, rather than a simple reference to 12.2F. This issue will need to be revisited during the evaluation of the prototype.
- ✓ Several JSC members objected to making rule 2.15B generally applicable. JSC decided to postpone action pending consultation of the rare book community [although it is the general cataloging community that needs to be consulted; rare book catalogers will follow it whether it is in Chapter 1 or in 2.15B]. ALA continues to believe strongly that 2.15B should be a general rule. Specifically, in the case of “The compact edition of the Oxford English dictionary,” this entire statement should be transcribed as the title proper, rather than “The Oxford English dictionary. – Compact ed.” This is a case in which the principle of representation should prevail, and the title transcribed as it appears.

- ✓ The abbreviations in the text of 1.2B3 (in the list) have been expanded, as they show the data found on the item. JSC decided not to make a comparable change in 12.2B3 [4JSC/M/573.3.28].

Issues deferred for future consideration or referred to other groups (repeated for the record from the February version of the proposals):

- ✓ Chapter tables of contents: We recommend that the punctuation subrule be deleted from the tables of contents for each chapter. This has been done tentatively in the prototype.
- ✓ 9.2B4-5: These rules in Chapter 9 attempt to identify some minor changes to an electronic resource that do not constitute a new edition. As such, they should be covered in the CC:DA Task Force document on when to make a new record, not by the rules for transcribing edition statements. We suggest that the Appendix Task Force examine these rules for possible inclusion in their document.
- ✓ X.2B8: This rule makes a reference to the rule for notes on edition and bibliographic history. When this Task Force takes up Area 7, we need to look at such links between basic rules and note rules. In this specific case, we want to consider whether separate rules are needed for notes on edition statements and notes on bibliographic history. [Note: The preliminary proposal for Area 7 does separate this note into two separate subrules.]
- ✓ X.2C1: The rules for statements of responsibility relating to the edition are related to the general rules for statements of responsibility in Area 1. When this Task Force looks at Area 1, we need to make sure that these two sets of rules are consistent.
- ✓ “Manuscript” vs. “unpublished”: 8.2A refers to “unpublished graphic items.” Although the scope of Chapter 4 is manuscripts, rather than either archival material or unpublished material, we did not feel that this inconsistency was sufficiently significant to warrant attention at this time. In the future, attention should be directed to the scope of Chapter 4.
- ✓ References to Area 2 rules: We have not searched AACR for references to Area 2 rules, to make sure that the rule still exists, applies, and has the correct number. This is a task that might best be left to an editor.

Addendum (repeated for the record from the February version of the proposals): On the advice of Bob Ewald, the Task Force looked at the rules for sources of information for Area 2 in the X.0A2 rules. Ultimately, we decided to defer this discussion until the Task Force looks more broadly at the X.0 rules. However, Bob made a suggestion about Area 2 that may be applicable to other areas, and is included here as an early warning.

Bob notes that the rules for prescribed sources of information primarily identify sources from which statements may be taken without bracketing. He offers simplified versions of this rule for Area 2, applicable to all chapters:

- (a) "The prescribed source of information for the edition area is (in this order of preference) the resource itself; its container issued by the publisher, etc.; accompanying information issued by the publisher, etc." or
- (b) "The prescribed source of information for the edition area is the source used for the title proper; an edition statement taken from any other source is enclosed in square brackets."

Once we look more broadly at the rules for sources of information, it may prove that one or the other of these simplified versions might be more generally applicable to other areas. The entire table of prescribed sources might be collapsed into one of the rules above.

X.2A1. EDITION AREA: Scope, etc.

1. X.2A1 has been used for rules on scope and/or application, where present. Note that the latter exist only in Chapters 4, 5, and 8. When absent, rule X.2A1 is omitted.
2. The “Preliminary rule” caption and the rule numbers should be removed from 5.2A and 8.2A. These rules are to follow the general instruction to record edition statements as instructed in 1.2. All of the rules in these chapters are to be unnumbered.

4.2A1. Scope. Use this area to give statements relating to versions of ~~manuscript~~ works existing in two or more manuscript versions or states in single or multiple copies. Examples are different manuscript drafts of a work and filmscripts existing in various versions.

5.2A. Preliminary rule

~~5.2A2. Manuscript music.~~ For manuscript music existing in different versions, see 4.2.

8.2A. Preliminary rule

~~8.2A2. Unpublished graphic items.~~ For unpublished graphic materials items existing in different versions, see 4.2.

X.2A2. EDITION AREA: Punctuation rules

1. Following the recommendation made by CCC and accepted by JSC, no references to 1.2A2 are to be included in chapters 2–12 [4JSC/M/573.3.3].

1.2A12. Sources of information. Give in this area information taken from the chief source of information or from any other source prescribed for this area in the following chapters. Enclose information supplied from any other source in square brackets.

X.2B1. Edition statement: the basic rule

1. The Chapter 1 formulation of the basic rule should be used, i.e., a simple instruction to transcribe an edition statement, without requiring that it contain changes relative to another expression or manifestation. The wording used is that recorded in 4JSC/M/573.3.12.
2. The term “edition statement” has been used in all chapters [4JSC/M/573.3.11]. ALA notes, however, that rule 1.2B covers only the first element in the edition area, while the rule in the other chapters covers the entire edition area. ALA thinks it might be confusing to use the name of a single data element to cover the entire area. We repeat our suggestion to use “edition information” in chapters 2–12 when referring to the entire edition area.
3. In chapters that contain no special rules (chapters 2, 3, 6, 7, 10, 11), the instruction “Record an edition statement as instructed in 1.2.” is given as an unnumbered rule following the area caption [4JSC/M/573.3.11]. In chapters 5 and 8, the general instruction has been moved to precede the provisions for manuscript/unpublished material, both rules being unnumbered. There are special rules in chapters 4 (4.2A1), 9 (9.2B1 and 9.2B4), and 12 (12.2B1, 12.2B4, 12.2F), and in these chapters, the numbering and captions have been retained.
4. Forward references to chapters 2–12 have been changed to “see also” references [4JSC/M/573.3.12].
5. A reference to 2.15 has been added at 1.2B1.
6. An instruction referring to 1.11C for reproductions has been added at 1.2B1.

7. Rule 2.15A has been not been modified pending consultation of the rare book community [4JSC/M/573.3.23].
8. Rule 2.15B has been retained in the rules for rare books [4JSC/M/573.3.13]. The ALA recommendation to make this a general rule in chapter 1 was postponed pending consultation of the rare book community.
9. JSC [4JSC/M/573.3.24–25] agreed that the general rule would appear unnumbered following the area caption, followed by the scope note (in 4.2A1). In this case, ALA feels that it is important that the scope definition precede the transcription rule, as this is the logical sequence of the cataloger's decisions. We have retained the captions and rule numbers at 4.2A and 4.2B, although it might be possible to give both the scope statement and the transcription instruction as unnumbered rules without captions. The comparable chapters 5, 8, 9, and 12 have been modified in the same manner.
10. Rule 12.2B1a has been revised to correspond to the comparable rule in other chapters. In 12.2B1, the phrase "relating to a serial as a whole" and (for integrating resources) the phrase "if considered to be important" have been retained. A rule referring forward to 12.2B1 has been added to 1.2B1. The proposed reference to 1.2B4 has been removed [4JSC/M/573.3.28]

X.2B3. Edition statement: the “in case of doubt” rule

1. Rule 1.2B3 a) has been further revised, changing “or its equivalent in other languages” to “or its equivalent in another language”.
2. “script, continuity” have been added to 1.2B3c [4JSC/M/573.3.14]
3. The forward references in 1.2B3 have been changed to “see also” references [4JSC/M/573.3.14].
4. The abbreviations in the text of 1.2B3 (in the list) have been expanded, as they show the data found on the item. JSC decided not to make a comparable change in 12.2B3 [4JSC/M/573.3.28].
5. Rule 9.2B3 has been revised to be consistent with 1.2B3 a).
6. Rule 12.2B2 has been retained; it has been renumbered 12.2B3 because it most closely matches 1.2B3, i.e., it is a negatively-stated “in case of doubt” rule. A rule referring forward to 12.2B3 has been added to 1.2B3. The rule has been reworded according to the CCC response [4JSC/M/573.28].

1.2B3. In case of doubt about whether a statement is an edition statement, consider ~~take~~ the presence of:

- a) a word such ~~words~~ as edition, issue, or version (or its ~~their~~ equivalents in another ~~other~~ languages);³
- b) a statement indicating a difference in content (e.g., abridged, corrected, enlarged, with a new introduction);
- c) a statement indicating a difference in version (e.g., draft, preliminary, revision, final, script, continuity);
- d) a statement indicating a difference in geographic coverage (e.g., Midwest edition vs. Western edition);
- e) a statement indicating a difference in language (e.g., English edition vs. Edizione italiana);
- f) a statement indicating a difference in audience (e.g., Teacher’s edition vs. Student edition);
- g) a statement indicating a special format or physical presentation (e.g., Airmail edition, Braille edition, Library edition, Microform edition);
- h) a statement associating a different date with an edition (e.g., Draft, Jan. 2000 vs. Draft, May 2000)

as evidence that such a statement is an edition statement, and transcribe it as such.

12.2C. Statements of responsibility relating to the edition

12.2C1. Transcribe a statement of responsibility relating to one or more editions, but not to all editions, of a resource as instructed in 1.2C and 12.1F.

X.2D. Statement relating to a named revision of an edition.

1. Rule 1.2D3 shows the revision called for in 4JSC/Sec/6 [4JSC/M/573.3.20]. However, ALA continues to believe that 1.2D3 presents a different use of “considered to be important” than others given in 4JSC/Sec/6. In this case, it is the bibliographic resource, not the information to be transcribed, which must be important; and it is a significant part of this rule that it must be important to the agency which is cataloging the resource.

1.2D. Statement relating to a named revision of an edition

1.2D1. If an item has a statement indicating is a revision of an edition (e.g., a named reissue of a particular “edition” containing changes from that “edition”), transcribe the statement relating to that revision following the edition statement and its statements of responsibility.

12.2F. Change in edition information.

1. ALA feels strongly that the rule for change in edition information not be merged into 1.2B7; see "Issues for Discussion" above. However, it is now proposed that the rule be worded as an instruction to apply 12.2F1, rather than a simple reference to 12.2F1.

1.2A. Preliminary rule

1.2A1. Sources of information. Give in this area information taken from the chief source of information or from any other source prescribed for this area in the following chapters. Enclose information supplied from any other source in square brackets.

1.2A2. Punctuation

For instructions on the use of spaces before and after prescribed punctuation, see 1.0C.

Precede this area by a full stop, space, dash, space.

Precede a statement relating to a named revision of an edition by a comma.

Precede the first statement of responsibility following an edition statement by a diagonal slash.

Precede each subsequent statement of responsibility by a semicolon.

For the use of the equals sign to precede parallel statements, see the appropriate rules following.

1.2B. Edition statement

1.2B1. Transcribe an edition statement as found on the item. Use abbreviations as instructed in appendix B and numerals as instructed in appendix C.

1.2B3. In case of doubt about whether a statement is an edition statement, consider the presence of:

- a) a word such as edition, issue, or version (or its equivalent in another language);³
- b) a statement indicating a difference in content (e.g., abridged, corrected, enlarged, with a new introduction);
- c) a statement indicating a difference in version (e.g., draft, preliminary, revision, final, script, continuity);
- d) a statement indicating a difference in geographic coverage (e.g., Midwest edition vs. Western edition);
- e) a statement indicating a difference in language (e.g., English edition vs. Edizione italiana);
- f) a statement indicating a difference in audience (e.g., Teacher's edition vs. Student edition);
- g) a statement indicating a special format or physical presentation (e.g., Airmail edition, Braille edition, Library edition, Microform edition);
- h) a statement associating a different date with an edition (e.g., Draft, Jan. 2000 vs. Draft, May 2000)

as evidence that such a statement is an edition statement, and transcribe it as such.
