From: Task Force on Consistency Across Part I of AACR2

RE: Area 6: Proposed Revisions (Revised)

This document is another set of revision proposals from the Consistency Task Force. It deals with Area 6, Series. The document consists of four parts:

- A. Summary of Decisions and Issues for Discussion. The Summary of Decisions lists the general decisions made by JSC in September 2003 [4JSC/M/573.6]. The Issues for Discussion includes some outstanding issues that CC:DA might wish to discuss. This section also includes an outline of the Area 6 rules and a list of issues that have been deferred for future discussion or referred to some other group for resolution.
- B. The revisions proper. The proposed revisions are marked up in the usual way. Prior to each section is a listing of the changes proposed. The rationale for the change is given where it goes beyond consistency. In the revision proposals, the unique rules in Chapters 2–12 are highlighted in yellow.
- C. A clean copy. The clean copy includes all the chapters in Part I (except Chapter 13). Examples that are to be excluded from the Prototype of Part 1 [a separate document, CC:DA/TF/Consistency/Prototype/2003 December] are struck through and highlighted in green.

A. Summary of Decisions and Issues for Discussion

Outline of Area 6 rules: Unlike other areas, the X.6 rules in Chapters 2–12 consist of the preliminary (punctuation) rule [X.6A] and a single rule for “Series statement” [X.6B] referring back to 1.6. Only in Chapter 1 are there separate rules for each ISBD element. See the list of major changes below for a discussion of the navigational/reference structure of Part I as it relates to Area 6.

The following is an outline of the rules in Chapter 1:

1.6. SERIES AREA

- 1.6A. Preliminary rule
  - 1.6A1. Sources of information
  - 1.6A2. Punctuation
- 1.6B. Title proper of series
- 1.6C. Parallel title of series

- 1.6D. Other title information of series
- 1.6E. Statements of responsibility relating to series
- 1.6F. ISSN of series
- 1.6G. Numbering within series
- 1.6H. Subseries
- 1.6J. More than one series statement
- 1.6K. Changes in series statement

Summary of decisions: The following actions were taken as a result of tentative decisions made by the Joint Steering Committee in September 2003:

- ✓ JSC asked that a prototype of the revised Part 1 be created. In particular, they asked that the examples in chapter 1 be kept to a number that might reasonably appear in the revised text. The prototype will be presented as a separate proposal. In this proposal, the examples that will not be included in the prototype have been struck through and highlighted in green in the clean copy (part C of this document). The selection of examples was somewhat arbitrary and should therefore not be taken as definite recommendations.
- ✓ The FRBR terminology has been updated according to 4JSC/M/573.6.
- ✓ Mnemonic rule numbering (i.e., consistent numbering of rules across chapters) has been retained in the prototype for comment; no final decision has been made [4JSC/M/573.3.2]. The rules in chapter 1 have been numbered consecutively, with no gaps.
- ✓ The punctuation rules appear in chapter 1 only, and no reference back has been included in chapters 2–12 [4JSC/M/573.3.3].
- ✓ The practice of references forward from chapter 1 to special rules in chapters 2–12 has been included in the prototype [4JSC/M/573.3.4].
- ✓ The use of bold italics to indicate the scope of special rules has been applied more carefully. In particular, the word “and” connecting two separate categories (e.g., “serials and integrating resources”) should not receive bold italics [4JSC/M/573.3.7].

Issues for discussion: The following issues may merit particular attention (the numbers refer to revised rule numbering):

- ✓ CCC argued that the example proposed for the second paragraph of 1.6G1 was not appropriate. We are asked to come up with a different example involving numbering that indicates a division of a year and which must be transposed in the numbering area

[4JSC/M/593.6.3]. ALA is not clear that the example is not appropriate. We interpret the statement to indicate that is the 66th number of the series published during 1976 – which is our understanding of what “division of the year” is intended to mean. However, we have found another example that may be preferred. Both are included in the proposal.

- ✓ ALA was asked to check the references to chapter 12 [4JSC/M/593.6.3]. As indicated below, the review of references has been deferred until later.
- ✓ Rule 1.6G2 contains a reference to 12.6G for the instruction that numbering is not recorded for serials unless all issues have the same number. CCC had suggested a rewording of this rule, but LC suggested deleting it altogether. JSC asked us to consider whether the reference should be retained and whether it might be more appropriate at 1.6G1 [4JSC/M/593.6.4]. ALA considers the reference to be important, but are not certain where the reference should appear in 1.6G. For this proposal, we have placed it in 1.6G2, but have (a) made it a separate paragraph following the example, and (b) reworded it as an instruction to apply 12.6G2, rather than a simple reference.
- ✓ CCC does not like rules in chapter 1 that contain only references. Therefore, they oppose the proposed 1.6K and want the reference to the rules for change in series statements added at the end of 1.6J, the rule for dealing with resources that belong to more than one series. They also want to renumber 12.6K as 12.6J. JSC agreed, but suggested that the caption of 1.6J might need to be changed; we were asked to find "a more inclusive caption" for 1.6J [4JSC/M/593.6.5].

The caption of rule 1.6J is "More than one series"; that of 1.6K is "Change in series statement"; the former deals with a resource (finite or continuing) that is part of more than one series; the latter deals with changes in series statements between issues/iterations of a continuing resource. These two situations are quite distinct.

On the other hand, Judy Kuhagen notes that “More than one series” (i.e., two or more series statements for the same time period) can apply to a single-part monograph, a multipart monograph, an integrating resource or a serial. “Change in series statement” can apply to a multipart monograph, integrating resource, or serial. For a multipart monograph or serial, the U.S. practice is to give multiple series statements, each qualified with appropriate span (the rule says to give a note if the information can’t be given clearly in the series area, but U.S. catalogers have been comfortable giving numbering information at the beginning of the series statement). Because the basis of the description for an integrating resource is only the current iteration, any change in series statement is handled via a series statement and/or a note instead of giving the span information in the series statement. This seems to reinforce the argument for keeping 1.6J and 1.6K separate, or at least the question of how to merge the two rules requires further investigation. This seems to be a case in which the ongoing discussion of the seriality of multipart needs to be concluded before this revision can be completed.

For the prototype, we propose to retain the distinction between 1.6J and 1.6K. However, we suggest rewording the latter as an instruction to apply 12.6K rather than a simple reference to 12.6K.

- ✓ Rule 11.6B1 currently distinguishes two types of series for microforms: the series in which the microform appears (which is covered in 11.6) and the series in which a reproduced original appeared (which is covered by 1.11C). Given that microforms are no longer the only significant type of reproduction, JSC is reluctant to limit this situation to chapter 11. The suggestion is to place a reference to 1.11C in rule 1.6B1. We were asked to consult with Judy Kuhagen about the wording of such a reference [4JSC/M/593.6.7].

Judy Kuhagen points out that rule 1.11C deals with areas 2, 4, and 6, and that any reference added to 1.6 should be added to 1.2 and 1.4; this has been done in our proposals for these areas.

We have included a reference in 1.6B1 to 1.11C, phrased as an instruction to record series statements for reproductions as instructed in 1.11C. The point of this instruction is to warn catalogers that there is a special rule about series in the case of reproductions. We wonder whether this warning in 1.6B1 will be sufficient unless it mentions the distinction between original and reproduction made in 1.11C.

Judy also suggests that rule X.11 on reproductions be added to chapter 11, comparable to the rule currently in chapters 2, 3, 5, and 8; at the same time, consideration should be given to whether a comparable rule is appropriate in chapters 4, 6, 7, 9, and 12. This will be done when the Task Force deals with the X.9+ rules.

Issues deferred for future consideration or referred to other groups:

- ✓ Multiparts: 12.6K1 (currently 12.6B2) covers only changes to series statements that represent either serials or integrating resources. AACR2 needs to provide for changes to series statements that represent multipart. The Task Force expects this issue to be dealt with by the Library of Congress in its continuing work on the rules for multipart in AACR2.
- ✓ 1.6G: The Task Force notes that there are only two cases in which a reference is made from the rules for series numbering (1.6G) to the rules for numbering in chapter 12 (12.3). It strikes us that a general linkage between these two sets of rules might be useful, as 12.3 covers cases that are relevant to series numbering but are not covered in 1.6G. However, the Task Force did not feel that this issue was within their charge, and simply raises the question for the record.
- ✓ 1.6G2: JSC decided to restrict rule 1.6G2 to multipart monographs. There is a comparable rule in 1.6G1/12.6G1. However, there is no comparable rule for integrating resources. It is not clear exactly what form such a rule should take, and therefore none has been proposed here.
- ✓ 1.6J–K: As noted in the Issues for discussion above, the ongoing discussion on the seriality of multipart needs to be completed before the revision of these rules can be finished.
- ✓ X.11: The addition of rule X.11 on reproduction will be added to chapters not currently including this rule (if appropriate) when the Task Force deals with the X.9+ rules.

1.6B–J. Series statements: Chapter 1 rules

1. Rule 1.6B1 has been revised per 4JSC/M/573.6.2.
2. The instruction regarding series numbering for a serial in 1.6G2 has been made a separate paragraph following the example and has been reworded as an instruction to apply 12.6G2, rather than a reference to that rule [cf. 4JSC/M/573.6.4]. See Issues for discussion above.
3. JSC did not find the example at the 2nd paragraph of 1.6G1 to be appropriate and asked ALA to find another example [4JSC/M/593.6.3]. ALA does not understand why the example is inappropriate; we interpret it to mean that this is the 66th number published in the series during 1976 – which is our understanding of the meaning of “division of the year.” However, we have found another example. The series is “Background papers” issued by the NSW Parliamentary Library Research Service (ISSN 1325-5142); the series contents listed clearly shows that the numbering restarts every year. We include both examples for evaluation.
4. JSC accepted a CCC proposal to merge rules 1.6J (more than one series) and 1.6K (change in series statement), and asked ALA to find an appropriate caption for the merged rule [4JSC/M/573.6.5]. As noted in the Issues for Discussion above, ALA feels strongly that these two situations are quite distinct and is retaining the separate rules for the prototype. This matter should be discussed further during the evaluation of the prototype; the ongoing discussion on the seriality of multipart is also relevant.
5. An instruction relating to reproductions has been added at the end of 1.6B1, replacing a reference to 11.6B1 [4JSC/M/573.6.7]. This is worded as an instruction to apply rule 1.11C. ALA feels that this is a minimal approach to this issue and suggests that the instruction in 1.6B1 should be expanded to make the distinction between the original and the reproduction made in 1.11C.

1.6B. Title proper of series

1.6B1. If a bibliographic resource ~~an item~~ is issued in a series, transcribe the title proper of the series as instructed in 1.1B ~~(see also 12.1B)~~.

A date of publication, distribution, etc., is not a chronological designation.

1.6H. Subseries

1.6H1. If a bibliographic resource an item is one of a subseries (see Glossary, appendix D) and both the series and the subseries are named on ~~in~~ the item, give the details of the main series (see 1.6A–1.6G) first and follow them with the name of the subseries and the details of that subseries.

1.6H2. If the main series and subseries titles appear in more than one language or script, choose as the title proper for the series area the main series and subseries titles in the language (or the clearly predominant language) of the particular bibliographic resource item being catalogued. If this criterion is not applicable, choose the first main series and subseries titles that are in the same language as each other.

1.6H3. If a phrase such as “new series,” “second series,” etc., appears with an unnumbered series, transcribe such a phrase as a subseries title. If it appears with a numbered series, transcribe the phrase as part of the numbering of the series as instructed in 1.6G1 (see also 12.3G).

1.6J. More than one series statement

1.6J1. The information relating to one series, or series and subseries, constitutes one series statement. If a bibliographic resource ~~an item~~ belongs to two or more series and/or two or more series and subseries, give separate series statements and enclose each statement in parentheses. Follow the instructions in 1.6A-1.6H in recording each series statement.

(Video marvels ; no. 33) (Educational progress series ; no. 3)

(Bulletin of the Iowa Highway Research Board) (Iowa State University bulletin) [moved from 12.6B1]

If parts of a bibliographic resource ~~an item~~ belong to different series and this relationship cannot be stated clearly in the series area, give details of the series in a note (see 1.7B12).

1.6K. Change in series statement

1.6K1. For serials and integrating resources, describe the addition, deletion, or change of a series statement on a subsequent issue, part or iteration as instructed in 12.6K1.

X.6B. Series statements: chapters 2–12

1. A general rule referring back to 1.6 has been added in chapter 4.
2. Rule X.6B, Series statement, and the rule number at X.6B1 has been deleted in chapters 2–11, and the general rule appears as an unnumbered paragraph.
3. JSC decided that the general instruction in chapter 12 should be made consistent with that in other chapters and that the second sentence of the current rule 11.6B1 should be deleted. The recording of series for reproductions will be handled by a reference from rule 1.6B1 to rule 1.11C [4JSC/M/573.6.7]. ALA feels strongly that reproductions are such an important category of microforms that failure to give an explicit instruction may lead to misapplication of 1.11C. We urge that the reference to 1.11C be repeated in chapter 11.
4. The special instruction in 12.6B1 not to record series numbering for individual issues of a serial has been retained. JSC asked us to consider whether the reference should be retained and whether it might be more appropriate at 1.6G1 [4JSC/M/593.6.4]. ALA does consider the reference to be important. As indicated in the Issues for discussion, this proposal places the reference in 1.6G2; the rule in chapter 12 has been numbered 12.6G2 accordingly.
5. The rule in chapter 12 on changes in series information continued to be numbered 12.6K for the prototype. See “Issues for Discussion” above.

Give the other form(s) in the note area if of value in identifying the bibliographic resource.

If the title of the series does not appear in the first of the prescribed sources of information and different forms appear elsewhere in the bibliographic resource, choose the title given in the other prescribed sources in the order of preference for the sources (e.g., if different forms appear in the second and third sources, choose the one appearing in the second source).

If the numbering consists of a year and a number that is a division of the year, give the year before the number (see 12.3C4).

(Background paper ; 2000, no. 3)

(Numbering appears as: no. 3, 2000; numbering restarts each year)

When the numbering is grammatically integrated with the series title, see 1.6B1.

If the numbering that appears on the item is known to be incorrect, transcribe it as found and add the correct numbering in square brackets.

(Kieler historische Studien ; Bd. 24 [i.e. 25])

Optionally, give designations from alternative systems of numbering (see 12.3E).

(Quellen und Forschungen zur Literatur- und Kulturgeschichte ; 1 = 235)

(When series changed title, publisher began a new system with 1 and continued the system from the earlier title with 235)

If a new sequence of numbering is accompanied by wording to differentiate the sequence, such as new series, include this wording. If a new sequence of numbering with the same system as before is not accompanied by wording such as new series, supply [new ser.] or another appropriate term (or its equivalent in the language of the title proper of the series). ## 1.6H. Subseries

1.6H1. If a bibliographic resource is one of a subseries (see Glossary, appendix D) and both the series and the subseries are named on the item, give the details of the main series (see 1.6A–1.6G) first and follow them with the name of the subseries and the details of that subseries.

1.6H2. If the main series and subseries titles appear in more than one language or script, choose as the title proper for the series area the main series and subseries titles in the language (or the clearly predominant language) of the particular bibliographic resource being catalogued. If this criterion is not applicable, choose the first main series and subseries titles that are in the same language as each other.

1.6H3. If a phrase such as “new series,” “second series,” etc., appears with an unnumbered series, transcribe such a phrase as a subseries title. If it appears with a numbered series, transcribe the phrase as part of the numbering of the series as instructed in 1.6G1 (see also 12.3G).

1.6H4. In case of doubt about whether one of the titles is a subseries or a second series, treat it as a second series (see 1.6J).

1.6H5. If the subseries has an alphabetic or numeric designation and no title, give the designation. If such a subseries has a title as well as a designation, give the title after the designation.

1.6J. More than one series statement

1.6J1. The information relating to one series, or series and subseries, constitutes one series statement. If a bibliographic resource belongs to two or more series and/or two or more series and subseries, give separate series statements and enclose each statement in parentheses. Follow the instructions in 1.6A-1.6H in recording each series statement.
